What Is The Calloway County Housing Guild?

THE CALLOWAY COUNTY HOUSING GUILD, a member of the National Housing Guild, sponsored by John-Manville Corporation, with headquarters at the CALLOWAY COUNTY LUMBER COMPANY, is now a nationally known housing system. The words "housing guild" have been filed in Washington, D. C., under the National copyright and trademark laws.

In order to become a member of the National Housing Guild, our personnel must be trained in the Guild School conducted by John-Manville. The equipment that you see and that we have in our office is especially prepared for us and is to be used by us for our mutual protection.

THE CALLOWAY COUNTY HOUSING GUILD is made up of the leading lumber dealer, architect, contractors, heating and plumbing contractor, electrician and financing agencies. Through this organization we are making it possible for the home owner, or new home builder, to repair or erect his new home in the most modern and economical way possible. This enables our prospects to have the "complete package" while dealing only with one individual or company. By this we mean that the CALLOWAY COUNTY HOUSING GUILD will be able to handle all parts of the repair or new building without it being necessary for you to see anyone else. It eliminates the necessity of your seeing the architect and financing agencies and other sub-contractors, as it can all be handled from one place.

Mrs. Luther Robertson, Mrs. Dewey Jones, Mrs. Carman Graham, Mrs. R. W. Key, and the hostess.

Oak Grove News

I guess every body is busy nursing plant beds these pretty days. Mrs. Rupert Orr is improving from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scarborough are the proud parents of a 12 and a half pound boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Orr spent the week-end with Mrs. Sam Paschall and attended church services at North Fork.

Red Orr is on the sick list. Miss Joy Paschall is improving from severe burns.

Mrs. Chesley Farris remains on the sick list.

I guess everybody is glad over the late line road being dragged by Hanzy Paschall—Grasshopper.

home of Mr. Graham's father, Charlie Graham, who is critically ill at his home here. Graham is county agent in Caldwell county.

Mrs. T. K. Kinney, Memphis, is on a 2-weeks' visit with relatives in Murray. She is spending most of her time with her mother, Mrs. C. N. Tyree, North Seventh street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grogan, of Detroit, Mich., visited relatives in Murray during the last week. Mrs. Grogan was formerly Miss Modena Nichols, a nurse at the Clinic-Hospital.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

What is the Future of Strawberries in This Section?

The crown borer has made strawberries uncertain for the past few years. The strawberry crown borer can be easily controlled if one will act quickly, according to information received by County Agent Jno. T. Cochran.

All plants for setting this year should be taken up and have the dead material removed. Then wash all the dirt and trash off at the pond. Then move the plants to the new patch which should be at least 200 yards away from the pond and the old patch. Clean plants can be obtained this way if they are taken up and cleaned before February 10. They should be heeled out until about March 1 and then set. The crown borer will begin to lay eggs after three or four warm days about the 10 of February and it will be then to clean and wash trying to get clean slips because the eggs will have been laid. After the eggs are laid there is no way to get over free slips. Don't forget to do this before the dead line, February 10.

There are only two crown borer free strawberry patches in McCracken county and none in Calloway and Marshall counties, according to the report of the state crown borer inspector, who was here recently.

Faxon High School

By Hubert Donelson and Arlon Willoughby

This week's news was to have been written by Arabella Cook, who is absent this week.

The play "Boots and Her Buddies" will be carried to Aurora Friday night, January 21.

The proceeds will be contributed to the foundation for the study and cure of infantile paralysis.

This play was given at Faxon a short time ago and was enjoyed very much.

F. F. A. Notes

The agriculture boys met Monday, January 17, and elected their officers for 1938.

The officers are as follows: Adon Williams, president; Talmadge Burken, vice-president; James Chaney, secretary; Voris Parker, reporter; W. R. Jones, Watch Dog; Rudy Barnett, treasurer.

First and Second Grades

Those making 100 per cent in second grade spelling last week were as follows: Ben Hopkins, Ronald Thompson, Christine Williams, Jack Roberts, and Ralph Harris.

The following made all A's in reading last week: Ben Hopkins, Christine Williams, Jack Roberts, Franklin Brandon, Betty Roberts, and Joe Jeffrey.

Third and Fourth Grade

The third grade boys and girls are studying Eskimo Life. They are gathering material for an Eskimo village.

Those on the honor roll for the fifth month are, third grade: Hilda Ann Emerson, Virginia Mae Cook, Billy Adams, Evelyn Wells, Reba Dixon, Norma Jean Wilkerson, Charlotte Holland, and Otis Elkins; fourth grade, Martha Evelyn Morris, Mary Colson, Thomas Phelps, and Dolphus Phelps.

Cole's Camp Ground

Sunday was visiting day in this community. Elwood Moore and his sister from Huldert, Ark., visited Guy Moore Sunday. His sister of Paris, Tenn., was with them.

Mrs. Johnnie Steele Troy and Bobbie from Pine Bluff, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Steele and Billie Joe, Detroit, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Steele, Sunday. Roy Edwards, Guy Moore and Ray Steele's family were recent guests of the Oliver family.

I guess there will be plenty of pork in this neighborhood next fall. T. D. Wilson, T. A. Oliver, and Mrs. Driskard bought some pigs recently.

Some of the folks are talking of hauling their weed crop this week. Cleatus Wilson has returned to Detroit where he has been employed for quite a while.

Mrs. Jim Simmons has purchased a new separator.

Rubie Fay Oliver is thanking her uncle, aunts, grandmother, cousins, and Santa Claus for the pretty doll and animal book, dresses, tea set, doll buggy, and fruits and other items.

Mrs. Martha Adams are you listening to that radio day and night? I never see you now.

Noble Simmons and Gifford and Colle were in town on business last week.

Mrs. Crouse and sons killed some nice porkers last week.

Mrs. Guy Moore was able to visit Mrs. Myrtle Edwards a few minutes Sunday.

"Uncle Don" Wilson was also visiting a few neighbors last week.

Ortis Moore has returned to Calloway again where he will take up farming for a while for his health. Ortis has been employed in Detroit plants for quite a while.

We are hoping good health will be restored to this young man and that he will like the country life.

Hello rine Adams, away down there anore Kentucky. How do you like your new home?

Franklin Oliver of Blood River hauled a load of tobacco to Murray Friday.

Say, Pearl Williams, did any one have to tell you to get out of that creek when you fell in the water?

I wish I could have seen you, I just know I would have laughed. Say, Pearl, I have spent some happy hours at your house.

Well it is time for this scribe to try to get a little sleep.

I wish you health.

I wish you gold in store.

I wish you heaven after death.

How could I wish you more!

South Lynn Grove News

This week has opened with very nice weather which we are all thankful for.

Farmers around here are burning plant beds.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvesta Paschall visited Mrs. Paschall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Boyd, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Young visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Humphreys Saturday night. Mr. Humphreys has purchased a new radio which they are enjoying very much.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Paschall enjoyed a bunch of charivariers Thursday night. Peanuts and apples were served the group.

Mrs. Hattie Byars is on the sick list. We are hoping she will soon recover.

Hello little Bronzie Nell Tidwell. I am hoping you don't forget Old Maid, and the same to little Junior and James White.

We are very sorry to learn of the illness of Mrs. Kemp. We are wishing for her a rapid recovery.

Gayle West and Truman Young killed hogs last week.

I am listening for news of North Lynn Grove as my mind travels up that way.—Old Maid.

I wish I could have seen you, I just know I would have laughed. Say, Pearl, I have spent some happy hours at your house.

Utopia Club Has Successful Year

Calloway Youths Prove Hybrid Corn is More Productive Than Ordinary Types

Calloway county's Utopia Club, which has a membership of 10 older boys, produced hybrid corn in 1937 in comparison with their common varieties of corn. It yielded the other varieties in all cases.

The check plots received the same treatment, the same cultivation and season. Hybrid corn yielded an average of all varieties by 20 per cent. This means, according to County Agent Cochran, one could use hybrid corn on 20 bushel land and get 25 bushels of corn or he could harvest the same amount of corn that would grow on five acres from four acres of land which would reduce the acre of corn needed to be grown.

Hybrid seed, however, he said, must be bought each year because it will not reproduce itself. It has been bred especially to withstand drought, to produce good root systems, to be right, and to have practically no barren stalks.

Hybrid corns are becoming common in the best and many sections of Kentucky are growing hybrid corn. Any one interested may gain information through the county agent or one of the Utopia club boys, who are Gaylon White, R. C. White, Reuben Chrisman, Brooks Underwood, Jim Wilson, Codie Lee Caldwell, Howard Paschall, Johnnie Walker, Sherwood Potts, and Charles Montgomery.

METROPOLIS EDITOR SPEAKS TO MURRAY CHAPEL GROUP

W. A. Spence, experienced editor, minister, statesman, and national worker of Metropolis, Ill., was the principal speaker of the chapel exercises at Murray State College, Monday morning, January 17, in the college auditorium. He addressed the student body on the subject, "The Ship of State".

Spence, president of the Metropolis Republican-Herald, was accompanied on his first trip to Murray by the Reverend Mr. Madison, pastor of the first Baptist church of Metropolis.

Standards

The atmosphere of reverence, dignity and perfection is essential to any and all funeral services. It has been our policy of long standing, in fact it is our entire set of standards, to assure the presence of such an atmosphere in all of the services we conduct, no matter the amount expended for the entire service.

Sincerely,

The

Stella Gossip

Well, "I'm all in" Had to use my Gillette and saw myself in the glass.

Full of Lee of Benton newspaper wanted to know how long had I been writing for the Ledger & Times? Answer: 41 years; not missed an issue in 10 years; my age a mystery; member of Church of Christ; Democrat during election campaign, otherwise neutral; never did join nothing.

Did you know that I mispelled "widow" (two d's)—in one of my letters. Say can you spell picnic, vilify, sacrilegious, exultate? You know that I know that you can not!

L. H. Pogue will preach at Coldwater Church of Christ Sunday at 2:30 p. m. and will use as his theme, "Be thou faithful unto death".

Say young man I want "you" to read Proverbs in the old scripture. Calculated to keep any one out of jail and the penitentiary.

State, county, and federal prisons are full of convicts, age from 16 to 30 years. O, please read Proverbs and Mark.

The farmers of Calloway will receive about $160,000 for their tobacco crop this year. They had to burn plant beds in the dead of winter; in May set out the plants, cultivate, and house and fire for 30 days. Fought, bled, and died in the auctioneer's mauling. Now the auctioneer is mumbling "Ratree, jubilee, a, b, c" in the tune "Tain't gonna rain no mo'".

In about nine months a son will be born to the new married folks and "granny" his name will be Jr.—junior after his dear daddy. Most preposterous blunder imaginable. "Junior" O jaw-way, nasty me, going down the pike in his daddy's tracks!

Now this leaves me very all O. A. The west wind and sunshine is exhilarating. "Eagle"

Outland School News

As school is nearly out we are merely going to make a brief outline of the happenings of the school days of this year that have already passed. We have been trying to beautify our school campus by planting flowers, white-washing the trees, and caring for the grass. We have also beautified our school building. We have repaired the blackboards, purchased a globe, map, pictures and bulletin board.

We have sponsored three programs this year. We have also made booklets and have learned numerous things. We are thankful for our good teachers who have taught us so many things.

We are indeed sorry that Mr. Wrathe, our county superintendent, is going to leave us. He has been mighty good to us.

We plan to entertain the people with a graduation exercise on the day of school, January 28. Come and bring someone with you.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor will preach morning and evening. Subjects: A. M. "NOW," P. M. "WHOSOEVER." Sunday School at the usual hour with classes for all ages directed and taught by faithful and efficient officers and teachers. The next workers' council meeting will be one of great importance and will be announced in time to give every worker, teacher, officer and interested person ample time to be ready to be on hand. Dr. H. M. McElrath, superintendent.

Training Union meets at the usual hour. The recent Training School was a glorious success from the standpoint of numbers and results achieved. This Training School is an annual event, each of which surpasses the other in particular points. There is a Union for those of each age beginning with the Junior age. R. W. Churchill, director.

Mid-week meeting every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The subject is considering subjects of much importance to the individual, the family and the church as well in these Wednesday evening meetings, next Wednesday evening the subject will be on the far-reaching theme, SAMSONITE, by which to gain entrance to the church with his family, friends, relatives and neighbors are urged to attend every time it is possible to do so.

A cordial invitation is extended to all communities to worship here whenever it is possible to do so. It is the earnest desire of the church in the city and community.

Once upon a time there was a man who broke a civil law and there was a writ issued for his arrest. This man lived in an old fashioned log house and the upper floor was put down with loose plank and contained no nails and when the planks would rattle. The owner of the house had a ladder by which to gain entrance to the loft. One night the officers came to arrest him and they got so close to the house that he did not have a chance to run out to hide so he darted up in the loft of the house to hide and he decided that if the loose planks rattled he would move like a cat so the officers would not notice it. But when the plank did rattle instead of moving like a cat he just said "It was water." So the officers went up in the loft and arrested him.

Faxon Facets

This cold, misty weather will make for more than the usual amount of sickness. Much sickness is already prevalent, particularly among the more aged, although several school children are absent because of deep cold or mild cases of influenza. But no serious illness has been reported in this neighborhood.

All spent her first day and night in a Murray hospital last week-end when she remained with a cousin at the Mason Memorial Hospital, and she was highly impressed with the uniformly efficient and courteous and cheerful service and attention to patient and relative.

Last week a time-honored custom was followed when neighbors, relatives and school-mates gave a charivari to Mr. and Mrs. B. Folwell and all the dishpan and cowbell accompaniment.

Ivan Folwell is spending a month with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Folwell, during the slack period in the industrial North. His fiancée, Miss Jane Teague, of Metropolis, Ill., spent a recent week-end with her aunt, Mrs. Cecil Walker, Murray, and with his parents, and attended the senior play at Raxon.

A large crowd was out for worship at Friendship last Lord's Day, in which the lesson was conducted by Raymond Phelps on the Eldership, in which much interesting comment was contributed by several persons. Clarence Dyer is to conduct the lesson next Sunday, after which Minister L. H. Pogue will preach on "The Vine and the Branches."—A. H.

Wayman Chapel Colored Church Invites Friends

The Wayman Chapel Methodist Church, colored, today issued through its pastor, the Rev. E. T. Crawford, an invitation to all persons, white or colored, to attend church service at that institution each Sunday and at all services. The organization is known as the Pool Hill Church.

Especially did he stress his invitation that all attend services for the Grand Candle Lighting Service. There will be more than 100 candles; the pastor said, to be lighted as the procession begins. Each department of the church will take part in the procession, the minister declared, finishing up his declaration with the statement, "Obedience is better than sacrifice."

"Life of Zola" is Named Best Film

"The Life of Emile Zola," starring Paul Muni, has been selected by film critics as the most distinguished movie of 1937, it was revealed here recently.

The movie portrayed the life of the great French author, featuring the part he played in freeing the patriot Dreyfus from exile and from fraudulent government charges which placed him there.

Soil Specialist Advises Strip-Cropping As Expedient Means of Conservation

In areas where erosion is severe, mechanical and biological measures must be used to save the soil, specialists in that field have discovered recently. Many fields on the steeper slopes have been planted too much in cultivated crops and now have lost a large portion of their top soil and are unprofitable to farm, according to W. F. Vickroy, Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Paducah.

In parts of the United States various control measures have been used to check this loss of soil. In the Southern and Western parts of the United States, terracing is used extensively to control soil and water losses. In the Northern states, where most of the fields are too steep and irregular to use terracing, strip-cropping will solve the problem satisfactorily.

By strip-cropping, Vickroy said, "we mean dividing the slope into narrow strips approximately on the contour. These strips follow a definite rotation and are arranged so that each cultivated crop is bordered by a strip of meadow or other close growing crop. This strip growing crop or control strip checks the flow of water from the cultivated strip, causing the sediment in the water to be deposited. The water has a tendency to spread when it reaches the grass strip. Its velocity is decreased, and therefore, more of it soaks into the ground."

Stop Run-Off Water—By strip-cropping the loss of soil fertility by erosion is checked. Plant nutrients in order to be available to the plant, must be soluble in water. The nutrients which are most readily available to the plant, easily pass into solution during a heavy rainfall and leave the field forever with the water run-off. The run-off of water is checked by strip-cropping, thereby reducing the loss of soil fertility. Vickroy pointed out that in an experiment in Missouri, where the annual rainfall was 40.37 inches, land in continuous corn absorbed 28.1 inches, while land in bluegrass sod absorbed 3.1 inches.

In farming most hill fields, the team or tractor is continually going up and down hill, for each field is farmed as a unit. By strip-cropping these fields around the hills, most of the farming operations can be done on the level, with less effort than working up and down the slopes. Experimental evidence indicates that about 20 per cent more work can be accomplished on the level than when going up and down hill.

Conserve Rainfall—We can do nothing to increase the amount of rainfall, but by strip-cropping, we can conserve and use what precipitation we do get, Vickroy stated. The importance of meadows and other close growing crops should not be forgotten in catching rainfall and the first six inches of soil has the key to prosperity, or poverty, as the case may be. Let's conserve what soil we have and strive to at least break even in our battle with erosion, the Conservationist said.

After all, the value of a given farm is determined by the amount of top soil remaining and its ability to produce desirable crops. Within the first six inches of soil lies the key to prosperity, or poverty, as the case may be. Let's conserve what soil we have and strive to at least break even in our battle with erosion, the Conservationist said.

No person is authorized to charge a fee for filing a claim for a lump-sum payment which becomes due under the social security act, according to R. A. Tweedy, manager of the Paducah field office of the old-age insurance bureau. The Paducah office, which serves the counties of the first Congressional District, is ready to give all necessary services in the filing of these claims, according to Mr. Tweedy. Forms will be mailed to claimants who find it inconvenient to go to the Paducah office in person.

MEMORY

In sad but loving memory of our dear Mother who passed away on January 20, 1937. It looked like we had more trouble than we could bear at that time but we looked to God for He alone can heal. Now He is at rest in that home where all is peace, joy and happiness. God called you away Mother. He called you up to heaven to stay. We know it was His will but we hope to meet you again. On that resurrection day. So just sleep on Mother. Sweet may be your rest. We loved you dearly but God loved you best.

Around Paschall News

We had another week of fine weather which was real pleasant after the extreme cold weather we experienced before Christmas.

The men of this community put in a lot of time last week dragging roads and getting them in good shape. We thank these men for their work for it is very unpleasant traveling over a bad road. There has been quite a lot of severe colds in this neighborhood. Mrs. Hollon Byars has been suffering the past week with a head trouble following a severe cold. Norton Foster and daughter, Fay, are recovering from deep colds. Mrs. Dick Jones is slowly improving. The small daughter of Odie Morris, Rama Sue, has a severe cold.

Mary Katherine Morris has the chicken pox. Mr. and Mrs. Hollon Jones and children, Annie and Bobbie, and Mrs. Esther Holt and son, R. L., attended church at North Fork Sunday.

Mrs. D. J. Wilson has a cold. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Hollon Jones and children, Mrs. Gailor Holt and son, Oat Paschall, Dick Jones, Mrs. and Mr. Arlie Byars, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Paschall, Master Charles Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Byars and daughter, Inez, were visitors Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hollon Byars and Mrs. D. J. Wilson.

Paying respect and rendering service to a friend in need is a friend indeed, old saying but nevertheless true.

Mr. and Mrs. Orie Key, Mr. and Mrs. Hester Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Eunice Kuykendall and son, Preston, attended church at North Fork Sunday. Orville Key and Master Lowell Key were also among those attending the church services.

Hello to Mrs. Connie Hall and family! I hope you had a real nice time Christmas. Ocean, I would like to hear the Florida Blues sung. Hal—Golden Lock.

Almo High School
January 17 began the third week of this semester's work with an enrollment of 177. There are fifty in the first three grades, forty-five in grades four and five, thirty-five in grades six, seven and eight and forty-seven in high school. This is the largest enrollment there has been in the history of Almo High school.

We feel that our school is growing each day and we want it to continue to do so. Twenty dollars worth of books have been bought for the grades and plans are being made to order some more fiction books and laboratory equipment for the high school.

The debate team is working hard. They have three debates scheduled. The Training School will uphold the affirmative side of the question with our negative team here Thursday of this week. Our team will argue both sides of the question with Kirksey, here Thursday, January 27.

The Blue and White Warriors met two basketball defeats with Hazel Friday night. Scores for the first team were 22-13. Our second team lost by a score of 19-16. Our last home game will be with Concord Friday night, January 28. A real minstrel will be given in the student auditorium February 3, by students from the Colored High school of Murray.

"Old Maid" Hilda Jane Jenkins and "Mary Katherine" Morris are wondering whether you have purchased another quilt box from Hazel yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Morris, Mrs. Estel Morris, Hilda Jane Jenkins, and Glynn Orr were Sunday guests of Odie Morris and family.

Sorry to hear of Mrs. Hollon Byars and Mrs. Missouri Wilson being on the sick list.

We hope Miss Joy Paschall will soon recover from burns sustained when moving a kettle from the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scarbrough are the proud parents of a twelve and one-half pound son.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Vandye and children have severe colds.

A very substantial increase has been shown in Cuban consumption of locally-manufactured cigars and cigarettes, resulting from more prosperous conditions, largely due to the effects of the Reciprocal Trade between Cuba and the United States.

Scraps Of Thought

No matter how much they already have, little children (and grown ups too) want more. It's rather amusing to watch little tots "window-shop." (All praise to the mother who has patience to shop with them.)

A darling, curly haired, little girl who looked very much like Little Red Riding Hood, turned loose of her mother's hand and ran up to a show window. She gazed, with wide, wishful eyes at a shiny, new tricycle.

I was wondering why "Old Santa" hadn't brought her one when I heard her say, "Mudder, my tricycle isn't the color of this one! Mudder, I wish my tricycle were like this one."

The mother finally got her started, only to have her stop at the next window.

It was a men's clothing store. Did she leave? No sir! Nothing escaped her big blue eyes.

Then she stepped upon the scales and insisted that she be weighed.

The mother looked at the scales, called a number and reached for the child's hand. (Kids are not so easily fooled. Not even the three year old!)

"But Mudder, you didn't pay the scales a penny!" and she sweetly refused to go until Mudder did pay the scales a penny.

This mother didn't show the least bit of embarrassment as she opened her purse (before an audience) and scrambled through handkerchiefs, powder puffs, compact, lipstick, bobbie pins, pencils and a dozen other things to find the penny. Why should she? Children are supposed to be made happy.

The men who haul tobacco after dark may find themselves spending that hard-earned check for fines and hospital bills, if they don't remember to hang a light on their wagon.

Dr. Howard W. Haggard, professor of applied psychology at Yale University, says that a pleasing personality is born, not made. That doesn't sound very encouraging if you ask me!

This way people have of throwing their worthless, unwanted cats on the highway is getting to be terrible. The poor things go meowing up to the nearest house, only to find a dozen more already waiting for a "hand-out." Every time one goes out a door, side, back or front one stumbles over a cat. There ought to be a law against it. (Pitching them on the highway, I mean.)

Utterback School

This is the last month of school and our last news this year.

We are very proud of the year's work. We feel we have accomplished much from the various activities carried on throughout the seven months.

We had a very successful Christmas program, a large number of parents were present.

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to parents and others who have helped in any way to make this a successful year. We had three new students Monday. They were: Anna Lee and Edward Bratton and Buddie Cresson.

Those who haven't missed a day this year so far are: H. W. Wilson, Ed and Oliver Parrish, Josephine Williams, Gene Thurmond, Edward McMellen, Rebecca Clark, June and Billie Williams.

Manuel Warren, a Jesamine Negro 4-H club member, grew 340 pounds of tobacco on 1-4 acre and sold it for $120.

Earl McFarland and Luke McFarland, Estill county, sold for $64 popcorn produced on 1-4 acre of land.

Lynn Grove School

To cover the cost of part of the yearbooks which are being published by the senior class, they are presenting a play, "Me, Him and I," a farce comedy by Charles George Saturday night, January 28. The cast of the play is made up entirely of seniors and is sponsored by Mrs. Doherty.

We have a new student, Kathryn Jones, in eighth grade.
